FASHANNE

THE FASHANNE AWARDS

FASHANNE is the Designers of the Future Awards, which champions our region's design students and showcases their work to top businesses and leading fashion experts. In 2020, the 4th Fashanne Awards will take place on the 29th and 30th April over two days at the stunning St Mary's Church in Nottingham and is expected to attract over 500 guests. Day 1: Judging of the students' work which will be exhibited throughout the church; workshops for students; talks from keynote speakers within the industry; 'Question Time' Event, where the students and guests have the opportunity to question the panel of judges and industry experts. Day 2: The main evening event hosted by the founder of Fashanne, BBC's Anne Davies, to include a fashion show showcasing the students designs with special guest models and the presentation of the awards.

Sponsorship of Fashanne will support the growing innovation and entrepreneurship in the East Midlands, provide a perfect opportunity for an unforgettable corporate hospitality event and shine a spotlight on your business, as you network with some of the region's leading business names.

Involving up to six Midlands universities and with up to nine award categories, talented students compete to be put forward to the Fashanne finals. Our first Awards night held at Belvoir Castle brought us to the attention of Tatler who likened Fashanne to Dior showing at Blenheim. Fashanne 2017 and 2018 achieved significant coverage too on BBC TV, radio and online, with 2020 set to attract even more attention across the UK and beyond.

Not only do the Fashanne Awards offer a glittering evening for industry leaders, sponsors and guests, but for students it's an occasion like no other, as Fashanne nurtures the next generation of talent. Our models are students, our make-up artists are students and we support all young people at the beginning of their careers. Our winners have gone on to design jobs at Hugo Boss in Switzerland, All Saints and Ted Baker to name a few.

Winners become automatic members of The Fashanne Academy which, with designers and industry leaders will grow alongside the Awards to provide a hub of talent to foster opportunities for members and to help and guide new talent coming through in the world of textiles, fashion and design.

Fashanne is a product of our great design past, celebrating and investing in an even greater future, giving opportunities to business to form lifelong relationships with some of the most exciting design talent in the world.
